ON DECK AGAIN.

It is easy to see that the Rev. Father Cronin, editor of the Catholic Union and Times, of Buffalo, is back at his desk. Listen to this: We admire the German Kaiser. He is a pure, religious, just, brave and able man. He first showed his manliness when he dethroned from the acme of power the able but fatal tyrant Bismarck. He is a fearless man and the lessons he teaches his sons on the day of their coronation might be preached from any Catholic pulpit in the world. He has just told the Catholic Poles in his empire that he honors their religion and respects themselves as faithful subjects. He knows and despises England for her perfidy and meanness, and is long for the day when he will measure swords with that generous nation. O, your Majesty, that day ever dawn, make for Ireland as your base. Don't make the mistake of the First Napoleon, which he regretted to last on the solitary island amid moaning sea. "Ah," he sighed, "I should have gone to Ireland instead of going to Egypt." Yes, Majesty, in case of war with England, your men-of-war. Then what remains of the martyred race will greet you—be all transmogrified, in fact, into Germans; help you to spear to death the omnivorous old lion that has so long swindled and devoured the nations, and give them a chance to take vengeance at last for all the unutterable wrongs of the dread centuries.

Several months ago Father Cronin was thrown violently to the ground from the step of an electric car, and for a time his condition was quite serious. The hard bump he received does not appear to have increased his love for England nor has it affected his vigorous vocabulary.

NEEDS A SEPARATOR.

Lewis N. Dembitz, one of the Fusion nominees, is busy these days writing cards addressed to Paul C. Barth, the Democratic nominee for Mayor. Mr. Dembitz is noted for his absence of mind, and probably that is the best way to account for the fact that he writes practically the same card and asking the same question each day. He is an expert on tax law and has a wonderful fund of information on things in general, but his advisers should see that he is equipped with a mental separator in order that he may not get his ideas mixed.

TOO LAVISH.

The Rev. Father D. S. Phelan, of St. Louis, editor of the Western Watchman and the Nestor of the Catholic press of the United States, in writing of his audience with his Holiness, Pope Pius X., has this to say: "The Holy Father recognizes that the most effectual work done in the church today is done by the Catholic journal. In the past hundred years the pulpit has been simply smothered in a babel of discordant, strident, tempestuous incrimination. The slanders of the few infidel thinkers of a century ago have been given millions of tongues and the edifying echoes have created a religious pandemonium. The Catholic press appeared upon the scene and abyss answered abyss, until the voice of truth now rings out louder and clearer and with challenging note in every tone that tells of victory and the peace that the sword of truth has won. The guns of the Catholic press are now shelling the hills and woods and defiles where the enemy formerly lurked, and there is no reply, or a faint and desultory one, to their whistling missiles." This eulogy almost makes any editor of a Catholic newspaper rise up and sing: "Come take a trip in my air ship." But is not this eulogy a little vainglorious? The Catholic press, or the majority of Catholic editors, are willing to concede that the clergy have done something for Catholicity. The Lord knows Catholic editors need encouragement, but may He save us from flattery that is no more than sounding brass and tinkling cymbals—to be heard today and forgotten tomorrow.

Acting in accordance with a recommendation of Bishop O'Connor, of Newark, the diocesan school board has decided to adopt a more general use of the teaching of Irish history in the parochial schools attended by pupils of Irish descent and will not be included in the curriculum of the Italian or other foreign speaking children. It might be well for Hibernians all over this country to agitate this matter. Nothing so much as a study of history instills patriotism in the human breast. If our children study the history of Ireland they will learn why their forefathers left the Isle of Saints, and under what circumstances they found a haven of rest in the "Land of the free and the home of the brave." It will make them better Irishmen and better Americans.

The Louisville Board of Fire Underwriters pay the local fire department a high compliment in their last report. A special committee appointed to investigate local conditions and report to the full board finds only words of praise for Chief Tyson and the department, which is looked upon as the equal if not superior to any in the United States.

It is better that fraternal insurance societies have rates that will enable them to pay the insurance promised, and to keep this up indefinitely, than to have rates that seem cheap but that inevitably lead straight to bankruptcy.

WHAT IS BROGUE?

As to the mispronunciation of certain English words, sometimes ridiculed as "Irish brogue," a writer in an Irish paper thus explains, says the New York Freeman:

"I mean by mispronunciation the saying of 'plays' instead of 'please,' 'kays' instead of 'keys,' and so on. This mispronunciation is due to more causes than people imagine and is not so much an error as people think, either. Formerly many English words—'tea,' for example—were pronounced in England just as the Irishman with the 'brogue' now pronounces them ('tea' being pronounced 'tay'). Others were pronounced according to the phonetic laws of the Irish language—'thrap' instead of 'trap,' 'thrasoon' instead of 'treason' and so on."

So that the "brogue" actually spoken in Ireland—not the fabricated stuff of the British and American "comic" papers—is nothing more nor less than what was once correctly spoken English or correct form on the standard of the native Irish tongue.

FAMILY DISSENSIONS.

Disension in families often rises from a lack of humility and too much presumption on the part of the different members of the family. "The soft answer that turneth away wrath" is forgotten for the heavy reply, the unkind retorts that kindle the fire of ill-feeling, and are the outcome of disorderly minds which are prone to resentment on account of lacking in the gentle grace of humility. Love does not linger in the home where petty pride shows its unlovely qualities. It chooses to dwell in the home where the spirit of unselfishness, of self-control, of thoughtfulness and of charityless makes the atmosphere sweet.

HOME TRAINING.

The man who brings up his boys to be honorable men does more for society than he who makes a law or frames a plank in the platform. And the woman who rears her girls in maidenly modesty advances the cause of morality far more than she who leads a woman's club pell mell against some notorious political offense or offender. It is an undeniable symptom of our time that the duty of home training is being neglected for the more spectacular functions of social and semi-political life.

STUDY YOUR STYLE.

An old sage who understood human nature pretty well advises women in the terse language of the day to "study first the effect produced by the face, the hair and the headgear." It holds good now just the same as it did more than a hundred years ago. It is wise to study the points of the face. The low style of dressing the hair is supposed to show off the profile to advantage. In some women a touch of color lights up the complexion wonderfully, while others are better without. The point is to learn what suits you.

FATHER WARD RECTOR.

The Very Rev. Father Felix Ward, C. P., has been appointed rector of the Passionist house in Baltimore. Father Ward, who is well and favorably known in Louisville, has just completed a term as Provincial of the Passionist order in the United States. It was with great joy that he was relieved of the pressing cares and duties of Provincial.

WHY IRISHMEN DON'T MARRY.

Several interesting letters on the subject, "Why Young Irishmen Don't Marry," have been appearing in the columns of a Wexford paper.

The letter of "Colleen" on the subject urges girls to do their best to become good housewives. Above all they should make their homes thoroughly Irish, "and when we combine all the comeliness, sweetness and demure gravity with which kind old Mother Nature has endowed women of other races for generations, we shall be able to coax them to take us 'for better or worse.' They will then, the writer says, gradually lose the sordid selfishness which seems now to be growing on them, and Irish women will not have to go outside of their race for husbands, as they are noted for doing at present.

Spices should permeate foods as incense does the atmosphere, delicate, impalpable and as indescribable as they are requisite.

Mildew stains can be removed by applying a mixture of lemon juice, salt, powdered borax and soft soap. Put the garment in the sun until dry.

SONG IN STORM.

A storm is raging high,
And a little bird in a tree,
Heedless of darkened sky,
Carols songs of glee.

Loud thunder bolts crashing,
Hard pouring down rain,
Lightning vividly flashing,
Hush not the sweet refrain.

When tempest-tossed around,
Sing cheerily all the while;
If the heart with music abound,
Heaven will sweetly smile.

KATHLEEN DON DRAVY.

Miss Angela Hays leaves tomorrow to spend several weeks with friends in Washington and Virginia.

Emmett O'Sullivan left Monday to spend a ten days' vacation at French Lick and West Baden Springs.

Misses Joe Scannell and Mollie Keiran arrived home Monday, after a delightful visit with friends in Cincinnati.

Misses Ida and Mayme Murphy, popular New Albany girls, were this week the guests of their cousin at Indianapolis.

D. J. Coleman was among the number from this city who spent the week at Lexington and attended the State Fair.

Miss Elsie A. Gast left Monday for Springfield, where she will enter the Sisters' academy and complete her education.

Misses Beezie and Nellie Hannon, who spent the summer visiting the larger cities of Ireland and France, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyle Mapother and little daughter Helen have returned to Louisville from Bellewood, where they spent the summer.

Miss Nora Wales, of South Louisville, has returned from a pleasant visit to Seymour, Ind., where she was extensively entertained.

Miss Elizabeth Clark, a favorite in St. Louis society circles, is the charming guest of Misses Lee and Katherine McCusky, 1708 Brook street.

Miss Anita Maldoon will remain several weeks longer at the sanitarium at Danville N. Y., whither she went on account of impaired health.

Miss Sarah McBarron left Sunday for her home in Evansville, after spending two months as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Catherine McBarron, in New Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Root have returned from a pleasant visit to Chicago, where they were shown much social attention and honored with a number of receptions.

Miss Nora Baker and Master Julian McBarron have returned to their home in Newport, after a pleasant visit of a week with Mrs. Andrew McBarron in New Albany.

John Lutemeier and William Oltman, of Frankfurt, spent several days here this week, and Monday night were the guests of the Mackin Social Club at the initial dance.

Misses Lucille and Edith O'Brien and Miss Kathleen Jennings, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Conn in the country for the past ten days, will return home next week.

The many friends of Miss Myra McAttee, of 516 West Oak street, will be glad to learn that she is convalescent after a severe illness of typhoid fever. She is now able to sit up and receive her friends.

Miss Amelia Schultheis, who has been spending the summer here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. B. Horstman, will leave next Tuesday for her home at Jasper, Ind. During her stay she made a host of friends who will be pleased when she makes them another visit.

The marriage of Thomas D. Clines and Miss Mary Higgins was solemnized Thursday morning at the Sacred Heart church in the presence of a large gathering of friends. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple left for a three weeks' honeymoon trip to New York.

The many friends of Andrew Gerulein, Jr., of 1404 West Walnut street, will be glad to learn that he is not as seriously burned as was reported in the daily papers. His injuries consist only of slight burns on one hand, and will in nowise interfere with his attention to business.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maguire, who have been spending a pleasant week as the guests of Mrs. James Couchman, 2200 Fourth avenue, will leave tomorrow for their home in Lexington. They were former residents of this city, and this was their first visit home since their marriage in the early part of the year.

Albert M. Fendel, a well known young man of Owensboro and prominent in Catholic society circles, left for his home last night, after spending a most enjoyable week with friends and relatives. Monday night he was the guest of the Mackin Social Club and during the week his friends showed him all over the city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kilkenny were pleasantly surprised Monday evening at their home on Oak street, a large number of their friends calling to celebrate their tin wedding. Music and dancing furnished the evening's entertainment until the amiable hostess invited all to partake of an elegant luncheon served in tins.

Miss Catherine Tennis, Secretary of the Y. M. I. Ladies' Auxiliary of Owensboro and organist of St. John's church, arrived in Louisville Monday night from Cincinnati, where she spent a week with friends. Miss Tennis returned to her home last evening after having been the guest of Miss Mary Holzkecht, Sixteenth street.

Mrs. Dan Haager and Mrs. R. Graves and daughter Hazel have returned from a most enjoyable visit to Cincinnati, where they received much social attention. Besides being tendered a jolly Dutch supper by Mr. and Mrs. Vonderheide several parties were given in their honor. They also enjoyed a pleasant trolley ride over the Queen City as guests of Mrs. Rose Regan and Mrs. C. Jackson.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Will R. Horan and Miss Anna Walsh, which will be solemnized Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament. The bride-elect is the lovely and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Walsh and has been greatly admired in her circle for her many amiable traits of character. Will Horan is a well known and popular young man and has a legion of friends who wish him a long and happy married life.

One of the prettiest of the autumn weddings was that of William F. Whalen and Miss Mary C. Donlon, solemnized Tuesday afternoon at the Cathedral. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Schumann and was witnessed by a large gathering of friends and relatives. The groom has for years been associated with Edward J. O'Brien in the tobacco trade and is one of the most popular young men on Main street. The bride is a pretty and accomplished young woman and a favorite among her wide circle of acquaintances. After the marriage the happy couple were showered with congratulations and were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season will take place at St. John's church, Clay and Walnut streets, on Wednesday, when Miss Mary Caroline Waltring and John L. Martin will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ushers will be Messrs. Adam C. Spieth, Edward J. Dalton, Arthur L. Martin and Michael J. Schmitt. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Martin will leave for Chicago on a bridal tour. On their return they will be at home to their friends at 915 East Washington street. The bride is a handsome and popular young lady. The groom is an employee of the Hopkins Theater. Both have many friends who wish them many happy years of wedded life.

A surprise granite shower was given Miss Carrie Woltring by a number of her friends at the home of Miss Florence Hallinan, 1508 Seventh street, Monday evening. Hallinan. Miss Woltring is to become the bride of John L. Martin on Wednesday. She received many handsome presents during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J. Heffernan entertained a number of their friends last Friday night with a most delightful musicale and reception at their home on West Chestnut street. After the artistic rendition of several difficult solos by Miss Mary Murphy and Joseph Lex, the guests were treated to dainty refreshments, the remainder of the pleasant evening being devoted to dancing and other amusements. Among those present were Misses Mary Murphy, Miriam Smith, Florence Olges, Emma Miller, Brentlinger, Connors, Miller and Levi; Mesdames John Dyer, George Myers and Henry Olges; Messrs. Joe Lex, John Dyer, George Miller, John Smith, George Myers, Henry Olges, George Gorman, Hall, Whitehead, Falls and William M. Higgins.

THEY ARE BUSY.

Barth Clubs are being organized all the city. The California Democratic Club will meet every Wednesday night until the election.

YOUNG PEOPLE DANCE.

The initial dance of the Mackin Social Club at the club house last Monday night was a pronounced social success and was greatly enjoyed by about 100 young couples. The series will continue during the winter season and should prove popular with the young people of the West End. Only those having invitations will be admitted. Monday night several visitors from out of town were present as special guests.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

A new council was instituted last Sunday at Defiance, Ohio.

Cincinnati Knights have decided to give two free public lectures during the coming winter.

An initiation of 100 candidates is projected for next month by the council at Columbus, Ohio.

The annual reception of Indianapolis Council is scheduled for Thanksgiving eve. Plans are being laid to make this affair the most elegant so far given.

Arrangements are being made in many of the large cities for the conferring of the fourth degree on Thanksgiving. One of these functions will take place at Fan-cuil Hall, Boston.

Greensburg, Ind., has a very flourishing council. The initiation of its first class last week was the occasion of a large gathering of Knights from many points. The three degrees were bestowed upon thirty-three candidates.

San Francisco Council is out for the national convention of 1906. The Santa Fe railroad intends to contribute $15,000 and the Southern Pacific $10,000 to the entertainment fund. It is estimated that $100,000 will be required for entertainment purposes, $25,000 of which will be spent for electrical illuminations and decorations.

Minnesota Knights have inaugurated a movement that will identify the organization with the charity work of the State. In the diocese of Winona there are five councils of the order. They have planned to hold five charity balls this winter, one in each city or town where a council is located, the proceeds to be turned over to the orphans of the diocese.

GREAT SPORT

Is Being Enjoyed By Lovers of Horse Flesh at Jockey Club Park.

This is the seventh day of the fall races inaugurated by the New Louisville Jockey Club last Saturday. From the opening day to the present time everything has passed off harmoniously and in sportsmanlike manner. In fact many claim that the horses that have appeared here are superior to those offered last spring. While the crowds attending the fall races have not been as large as during the spring meeting, they have been spending crowds.

The features for the coming week, beginning this afternoon, will be the Galt House handicap, the fourth race today; the Old Inn handicap, Tuesday; the Willard Hotel handicap, Thursday, and the Frank Fehr handicap next Saturday. For those who like to see the jumpers there will be steeplechases on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Manager Matt J. Winn announces positively that the races will close on Saturday, October 6, as previously announced.

MACKIN'S INITIATION.

The degree team of Mackin Council met Sunday afternoon at the club house and went through a rehearsal for the presentation of the new ritual at the initiation, which takes place on October 1. The members have studied the parts faithfully and will give an impressive exemplification of this ritual, which will be used in Louisville for the first time. As Mackin has been making rapid strides in membership lately, she will have an unusually large class of candidates ready for the degrees.
